

Researcher Development and Travel Grants Terms and Conditions

These terms and conditions apply to applications made and grants awarded by the Royal Society of Chemistry (a company incorporated in England by Royal Charter (Registered No. RC000524) and a Registered Charity No. 207890, with its registered address at Burlington House, Piccadilly, London, W1J 0BA) ("RSC") in respect of the 9 December 2024 – 27 January 2025 application round of the researcher development and travel grants ("RDTG").

Please read the following terms and conditions before making an application.

1. About the grant

- 1.1 A maximum of up to £500 GBP ("Grant") will be awarded by the RSC to the successful applicant ("Recipient"). The Grant must be used by the Recipient to undertake an activity to develop their research skills and/or career as an early career researcher. Examples include attending conferences, workshops or training courses, or organising a scientific meeting. The Grant is provided as a contribution towards the total cost of the activity. It is not intended to cover all costs and expenses.

2. Duration and start of award

- 2.1 The Grant is available for activities starting on or after 1 April 2025.
- 2.2 The "Grant Period" is the period from the date of the Award Letter (see section 9.2) until the date the RSC's receives the Final Report (see section 12.1).

3. Eligibility

- 3.1 Each applicant ("Applicant") must be either an Affiliate, Associate Member (AMRSC), Member (MRSC) or Fellow (FRSC) of the RSC at the time of the application deadline and for the duration of the grant. Undergraduate Student Members (AFU) are ineligible. The Applicant's RSC membership must have been confirmed by the RSC before the grant application deadline – it is not sufficient to simply have a membership application in process.
- 3.2 At the time of the application deadline and for the duration of the Grant Period, Applicant's must be either:
 - 3.2.1 a PhD student actively undertaking a PhD course in the chemical sciences; or
 - 3.2.2 A researcher in the chemical sciences (including post docs and research technical professionals), working in academia, industry or any other sector, within 10 years of leaving full time education. The 10 years proceeds from the year of graduation. Applicants must state the reason for any career breaks within their application so the RSC can take this into consideration e.g. a period of parental/adoption leave, family commitments, illness, or other exceptional circumstances;
- 3.3 Applicants to an RDTG can only receive one Grant every three calendar years. For example, if an Applicant is awarded a Grant in 2024, the Applicant is eligible to apply again for an RDTG in any application round that awards funding in 2027 or later. This restriction does not apply to RDTG awarded in 2023 or earlier.
- 3.4 Applicants can only submit one application per funding round.

- 3.5 Unsuccessful Applicants can reapply for future funding rounds as long as their new application meets all of the eligibility requirements.
- 3.6 Any given activity may not receive more than one RSC grant, with the exception of our Grants for Carers and Accessibility Grants. Applicants must inform the RSC if an activity is successful in multiple RSC grant applications.
- 3.7 The Applicant is solely responsible for ensuring they are not under any obligation which prevents them from applying for or receiving the Grant, whether the obligations are imposed by their home organisation (e.g. their employer) or otherwise.
- 3.8 The Applicant is solely responsible for clarifying the position relating to intellectual property rights (“IPRs”) of any research undertaken with the Grant. For the avoidance of doubt, the IPRs in the research will not belong to the RSC.

Please contact funding@rsc.org if there are any problems.
- 7.4 Confirmation of support needs to be completed by the Grant deadline. The RSC will recommend to the nominated person making the declaration that this needs to be done in advance of the Grant deadline. Appendix B

A note about predatory conferences

The RSC advises all Applicants to be cautious when choosing conferences or meetings to attend. There are an increasing number of so-called “predatory conferences” which are expensive and provide little or no scientific benefit for the attendees. This Chemistry World article provides more information about “predatory conferences” and below is a list of potential warning signs to look out for when considering attendance at an unfamiliar conference or meeting (“Meeting”).

If Applicants have any concerns or doubts about a Meeting, please do not hesitate to contact the RSC before applying for a Researcher Development and Travel Grant.

The RSC will also inform Applicants as soon as possible if the RSC spots an application for attendance at a suspected “predatory conference”. The RSC are unable to support grant applications for “predatory conferences”.

Potential signs of a “predatory conference” are:

- the conference organiser is holding multiple meetings on the same day(s) and in the same location;
- the conference venue does not reflect the supposed size of the meeting (e.g. a “World Congress” that is held in a hotel, rather than a conference centre);
- there is an unusual combination of words and phrases, or loosely related fields of study, in the conference name;
- photos of previous meetings on the organiser’s website only show meetings of about a dozen participants in a small meeting room;
- the Applicant has been invited to give a talk in a subject matter outside of their expertise;
- the invitation addresses the Applicant in superlative terms;
- the conference has an unusually broad subject matter or coverage;
- the language of the invitation is unusual for the Applicant’s professional practice or has grammatical errors;
- the editorial board or conference organisers are not well-known in the Applicant’s research field;
- the “business” address of the organiser is unusual (e.g. if Google Street View shows it to be a residential address);
- the registration fee is high or if invitations are repeatedly sent to the Applicant;
- the conference website does not include subject matter that is at the frontier of knowledge;
- the high-level speakers in the programme are listed as “subject to confirmation”; or
- the Applicant does not recognise the journal, conference or participants.
